

Dear Hiring Manager,

I wish to apply for the Backend Developer (Python) in your innovative startup company. I am good fit for this role because in my most recent role as a full stack software developer, I helped Luday - a startup company based in Sweden - to grow rapidly and I led three diverse remote teams to deliver projects successfully. Besides, I also have 9 years progressive professional experience building solutions that succeed.

As a highly motivated Software Engineer who holds a Master's Degree from the University of Greenwich, London, UK, I am eager to lead or be involved in the development of software that meets users' requirements, is easy to use or modify, and performs flawlessly over a long period.

I have expertise in Python (and Django), JavaScript (and React.js), and good Problem-Solving skills using Data Structures and Algorithms.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Thank you.
